SECTION 1: EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SACRE's function in relation to Religious Education

A clear outline of SACRE's function is given in the Welsh Office Circular 10/94

SACRE advises the LEA on matters relating to the provision of Religious Education and Collective Worship, and is responsible for the establishment of an ad hoc body, the Agreed Syllabus Conference, to produce or consider amendments to the Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education

1.1 Introduction by the Chairperson

It gives me great pleasure to present Gwynedd SACRE Annual Report for the 2009-2010 school year. During the year, SACRE advised the Education Department on several matters including the Agreed Syllabus, Standards in Religious Education, INSET and Collective Worship.

Gwynedd SACRE has also monitored developments in schools, and supported activities held by national associations such as DELLS and Association of SACRE's Wales.

I also thank all Gwynedd SACRE members, and several officers including Bethan James, Glynda O'Brien and Ken Robinson for their commitment and support during the year. May I also thank all the denominations, unions and political groups for fulfilling their responsibilities, and hopefully the meticulous work and commitment will continue during the coming year.

Cllr Pat Larsen
Chair Gwynedd SACRE 2009/2010

SECTION 2: ADVICE TO GWYNEDD EDUCATION AUTHORITY

2.1 SACRE's function in relation to Religious Education

A clear outline of SACRE's function is given in the Welsh Office Circular 10/94.

SACRE advises the LEA on matters relating to the provision of Religious Education and Collective Worship, and is responsible for the establishment of an ad hoc body, the Agreed Syllabus Conference, to produce or consider amendments to the Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education.

2.2 The Agreed Syllabus

All of the county's primary, secondary and special schools follow the Locally Agreed Syllabus (2008). The document is promoted during inset sessions and visits to schools. Materials to support the Agreed Syllabus are developed as part of the training programme.

2.3 Standards of Religious Education

Gwynedd SACRE monitor standards in religious education by reviewing school inspection reports, and by receiving summaries of schools' self-evaluation documents.

2.3.1 During the year, 18 inspection reports on schools in Gwynedd were presented; the following sections of each report were submitted for the attention of SACRE:

- school name
- name of inspection team
- the appropriate section on pupils' Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural Development as evidence of the school's and the inspection team's response to Key Question 3: How well do the learning experiences satisfy the needs and the interests of the pupils and community?
- the report on Religious Education as evidence of the school's and the inspection team's response to Key Question 1: How well do learners achieve?
- any other relevant key matter

Number of reports received:	Primary	17
	Secondary	1

2.3.2 Religious Education: Key question 1: How well do learners achieve?

Religious Education was inspected as a nominated subject in 6 schools.

	Grade 1 Good with outstanding features	Grade 2 Good features and no significant shortcomings	Grade 3 Good features which outweigh the shortcomings	Grade 4 Some good features but shortcomings in important areas	Grade 5 Many significant shortcomings
KS1		6
KS2	1	5
KS3
KS4
KS5
Total	1	11

The inspections followed the usual pattern of referring to good and outstanding features and deficiencies. In each instance, the good features outweighed the deficiencies. In two schools, no significant deficiencies were identified. A congratulatory letter in SACRE's name was sent to schools acknowledging the good work.

Good features were observed in many schools:

Outstanding features (one school)

- Many KS2 pupils have outstanding knowledge and understanding of Christian customs, ceremonies and celebrations and also of some other world religions.
- Pupils know the importance of pilgrimage to believers and their knowledge of the pilgrimage destinations of the various religions is outstanding.

Good features (the majority of schools)

- Pupils can recall many stories from sacred books and understand the religious messages that underpin them. When discussing religious books, pupils become aware of how the Qur'an makes a difference to the life of the Muslim, and of the importance of the Bible to the Christian and the Torah to the Jew.
- Pupils understand the importance of pilgrimage and know of locations such as St Davids, Iona, Lourdes and Bethlehem that are important to the Christian. In the same way, they understand the significance of the pilgrimage to Mecca for the Muslim. They discuss meaningfully how a journey can change people.
- Pupils use their learning and thinking skills very effectively as they consider elementary questions about religion and life, such as people's relationships with each other. They can discuss the difference between character and personality that makes us human.
- The Curriculum Cymreig is a prominent feature as pupils have opportunities to discuss Welsh saints, religious leaders and locations. Learners visit local places of worship and often question religious leaders who work in their communities.
- Most pupils have an investigative and inquisitive spirit and they feel confident in raising questions from their personal and religious experience.
- Most KS2 pupils discuss principles such as friendship, tolerance, care for others and behaviour towards each other well. Increasingly KS3 pupils understand concepts such as conscience, forgiveness and obedience and they show a sound awareness of the effect and influence of belief on believers.

- Pupils have a good understanding of the purpose and meaning of Christian celebrations such as baptism, marriage, thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter.

Shortcomings (one school)

- Many pupils in KS2 do not compose pieces of extended, personal writing on issues relating to religion.

As a matter of course, attention is given to identified deficiencies by the school, LA officers, the humanities adviser and the advisory teacher. If they are present in several schools, then this influences the in service training programme. If an inspection report describes standards as unsatisfactory the schools formulate a post-inspection action plan and receive additional support from the advisory service.

2.3.3 Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development

Key question 3: How well do the learning experiences satisfy the needs and the interests of the pupils and community?

Each inspection team reports on pupils’ spiritual, moral, social and cultural development. The relevant sections of 17 school inspection reports were submitted to the attention of SACRE members..

	Grade 1 Good with outstanding features	Grade 2 Good features and no significant shortcomings	Grade 3 Good features which outweigh the shortcomings	Grade 4 Some good features but shortcomings in important areas	Grade 5 Many significant shortcomings
Primary schools	9	6	1
Secondary schools	1
Total	10	6	1

All schools complied with the statutory requirement to hold a daily act of collective worship.

Some of the good features highlighted in many schools are noted below:

- Collective worship sessions which offer good opportunities for pupils to reflect on spiritual and moral are of a very high standard and offer pupils particularly good opportunities to reflect on their spirituality and moral issues. One school was praised for the outstanding opportunities it offered to pupils to contribute to the planning and presentation of the daily acts of collective worship.
- All pupils respect the ethos of the collective worship sessions.
- The sensitive and caring way in which the school responds to the different beliefs of the pupils.

- A well planned Personal and Social Education programme which permeates every aspect of the school's work to ensure that the pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development is based on clear values and principles.
- The broad learning experiences pupils receive successfully promote their moral, social and cultural development, creating in them a strong sense of responsibility towards the school, their environment and the community
- The contribution made by local religious leaders to the collective worship sessions. These individuals offer a good contribution to the spiritual development of the pupils. In one school, families associated with the school had visited in order to consolidate principles such as the importance of helping others less fortunate.

Some deficiencies were noted in some schools (three schools):

- The daily acts of collective worship do not challenge and enrich pupils' spiritual experiences.
- Opportunities to pay sufficient attention to pupils' spiritual development are sometimes lost because the school fails to create an appropriate ethos.

2.3.4 ESTYN's New Inspection Framework

One secondary school in Gwynedd was a pilot school for ESTYN's new inspection framework. From September 2010 inspections will focus on three key questions:

- Key Question 1: How good are outcomes?
- Key Question 2: How good is provision?
- Key Question 3: How good are leadership and management?

Inspection reports will not refer to specific subjects.

Reference was made to pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development in the report published on the pilot school:

"The school gives due attention to promoting the development of pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural experiences."

Report on the Quality of Secondary Education in Ysgol Glan y Môr (January 2010)

2.4 The Self Evaluation Process

Cwmni Cynnal has provided a handbook for primary and secondary school offering them guidance regarding the self-evaluation procedure and the criteria they should be measuring themselves against. Guidelines are also provided on observing in lessons, collating examples of work, use of language, ensuring consistency through the whole department and discussion with pupils.

Teachers are referred to the 7 questions that form the basis of ESTYN's inspection procedure:

1. How well do learners achieve? – Religious Education as a subject will be evaluated under this question;
2. How effective is the teaching and assessment?

3. How well do the learning experiences satisfy the needs and the interests of the pupils and community?
4. How good is the care, the guidance and the support given to pupils – the standard of spiritual and moral provision within the school will be evaluated against this criteria?
5. How effective is the leadership and management?
6. How well do the leaders and the managers evaluate and improve quality and standards:
7. How efficiently do the leaders and the managers use resources?

It was resolved in the meeting on 23 February 2005 that Gwynedd SACRE would receive a copy of the self evaluation of a school that receive inspections when there is no specific report on Religious Education, during the year when the school is inspected.

11 self evaluation reports were received during the year: secondary 2
 primary 9

The report is a record of the school's respond to key questions 1 and 3 of the inspection framework. Schools submit their concise judgement on the main strengths of learners' achievement and note the aspects which will be addressed in the next two years. They also submit their concise judgement on the way the learning experiences promote pupils' spiritual, moral, social and cultural development and note the aspect which the schools hope to address during the coming year.

Following the self evaluation process, schools awarded the following grades:

	How well do pupils achieve?					How well do learning experiences met the needs and interests of learners and the wider community?
	Grade 1	Grade 2	Grade 3	Grade 4	Grade 5	Grade 1	Grade 2	Grade 3	Grade 4	Grade 5
Primary	1	7*				4	4
Secondary		2					2
Total	1	9				4	6

*No grades were submitted by one primary school.

Schools were proud of aspect such as:

- the standard of pupils' attainment;
- pupils' good understanding of the topics discussed;
- the wide range of teaching and learning techniques used in religious education lessons;
- pupils' willingness to express their opinions orally and in writing;
- pupils' ability to ask, discuss and respond to questions that arise from their own experiences and from aspects of religion.

- the ways in which pupils were able to link religious beliefs, teachings and practices.

The aspects which will be addressed by schools during the next year include:

- continuing to respond to the requirements of the Locally Agreed Syllabus and the 2008 Curriculum;
- ensuring that the religious dimension of Wales is a focus of the religious enquiries.
- planning with the pupils;
- developing some skills further following a self-evaluation of learner's work, e.g. independent investigations;
- developing an element of reflection during collective worship.

- Inaccurate data submitted for Ysgol y Berwyn.

KS3 results are presented as information only. Departments judge pupils' attainment on the basis of the year's work, specific assessment tasks and tests. The pupils do not sit the same tests or the same assessment tasks and teachers do not meet regularly to moderate their pupils work with other departments. The Welsh Assembly Government does not collect religious education data but CYNNAL has collected pupils' end of KS3 attainment levels in religious education since 1999. This year some departments have been invited to participate in a DCELLS pilot programme and will submit portfolios for external moderation. CYNNAL INSET courses have given subject teachers an opportunity to share experiences and to moderate samples of work together. Four secondary schools have not submitted KS3 teacher assessments.

Good results

- 113 candidates from Gwynedd school – approximately 8% of the cohort.
- Numbers vary from 2 pupils in one school to 26 in another.
- 99.1% of the candidates achieved a GCSE grade with 83.2% gaining A*-C. 42.5% of the candidates achieved an A*/A grade.
- The subject mean score of 6.0 is higher (0.6) than the mean score of 5.4 attained by the pupils in other subjects.
- More girls than boys choose the subject in Gwynedd secondary schools (B21%:M79%).
- The boys' results are comparable to the girls' results. The boys' mean score of 6.0 is slightly higher than the girls' subject mean score of 5.9.
- The pupils of Ysgol Dyffryn Ogwen, Ysgol y Gader, Ysgol Syr Hugh Owen and Ysgol Glan y Môr perform better in religious education than in other subjects.
- No candidates were entered to sit GCSE examinations at Ysgol Ardudwy and Ysgol Tywyn
- CYNNAL would like to offer support to the following departments:
Ysgol Ardudwy – the subject leader has been on long term sick leave.
Departments which would like to attract more pupils to study GCSE Religious Studies
Departments which intend to submit RE portfolios for external moderation this year.

- 21 candidates from Gwynedd schools. The secondary schools are currently working together in order to share the responsibility of delivering A level and AS level courses so not all secondary schools in Arfon offer the same menu of A level and As level courses.
- More girls than boys choose to study Religious Studies at AS level (Gwynedd B19%: M81%) and the girls' results are better than the results achieved by the boys.
- 90.5% succeeded in gaining an AS grade with 42.9% achieving an A*-C grade. 14.3% of the candidates achieved an A grade.
- The mean subject score of 31.9 is a little lower (-1.0) than the mean score achieved by the pupils in other subjects. .

2.6 The reponse of the Local Education Authority

The quality and development of educational provision in Gwynedd schools during the school year was reported upon through the Annual Report on the Education Service.

Gwynedd's Children and Young People's Plan 2008-11

Strategic Aim 2 : Education and Learning experiences

"To ensure that the children and young people of Gwynedd have access to a range of education and learning opportunities to enable them to fulfil their potential."

STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE	STRATEGIC PRIORITY AREA
2.1 Enabling every child and young person to fulfil their full learning potential	2.1.1 Providing the best education, training and skills opportunities for all

2.2 Supporting children and young people with additional learning needs and children and young people in special circumstances	2.2.1 Supporting the full inclusion of learners with additional learning needs and children and young people in special circumstances
2.3 Providing a wide range of quality youth support services	2.3.1 Promoting and coordinating developments relating to youth support services

Anglesey Education Authority and Gwynedd Education Authority provide financial support to CYNNAL (the advisory service). CYNNAL appoints an Humanities Adviser to be responsible for Geography, History, Religious Education and Education for Sustainable Development and Global Citizenship and to provide curriculum support to the primary and secondary schools of the two authorities. A part time secondment (0.5 in 2009-10) is also offered to an advisory teacher.

2.6.1 The support of the advisory service

Primary and secondary schools within the county receive the support of the Humanities Advisor and the part time Religious Education Advisory Teacher as they visit schools as part of the 'entitlement programme'. They support teachers as they plan programmes of study and assessment plans, prepare classroom activities and select suitable classroom resources. Developing thinking skills and assessment for learning is a priority for many of the county's teachers. CYNNAL supports schools that are preparing for inspection by helping teachers and departments to self evaluate standards in religious education. The Advisory Teacher's role is invaluable as a means of disseminating good practice, developing interesting classroom activities and supporting teachers as they prepare for the future.

The Humanities Adviser and advisory teacher report on their work at SACRE meetings. These presentations provide a platform for sharing recent developments, pedagogical matters and resources and an overview of the work done with the LEA's schools. The discussions of 2009-10 have focussed on supporting schools as they respond to the Locally Agreed Syllabus and developing learning activities which help pupils monitor pupils' attainment. A training course on 'People, Questions and Beliefs' was organised for Foundation Phase teachers.

The Humanities Adviser attends the National Advisory Panel for Religious Education meetings and meetings of the Wales Association of SACREs. These meetings provide national forums to discuss matters relevant to Religious Education.

Mrs Leusa Jones – Religious Education Advisory teacher

Mrs Leusa Jones was appointed as a part time advisory teacher in Autumn 2009. She has been busy preparing and delivering courses for the county's secondary teachers and supporting individual departments as they respond to the new inspection framework and revise their learning activities for their pupils.

2.7 In-service training

2.7.1 Report on In-service training 2008-9

As part of the Service Level Agreement with the schools, the LEA provides INSET for teachers employed by the Authority. The Education Strategic Plan notes the importance of the training programme as a means of ensuring that teachers receive information about new developments, disseminate good practice and work together to develop learning and teaching strategies and appropriate materials. The aim is to ensure that the training programme meets schools' and teachers' requirements through consultation with teachers and professional tutors in schools. Subject panel meetings are held in some areas to discuss priorities and provide guidance on the training programme. In addition, attention was given to the Authority's priorities, ESTYN's comments, and to comments which appear in inspection reports.

Primary and secondary head teachers have agreed to close schools for two days to enable teachers to attend school based or consortia based training courses. The professional tutors were responsible for choosing the courses for secondary departments and the primary head teachers identified suitable courses for their colleagues.

2.7.2 Training and special visits organised by Gwynedd and Anglesey SACREs

No training conference was held for teacher and SACRE members of Gwynedd and Anglesey during 2007-8.

2.7.3 INSET courses 2010-11

The following courses were submitted to the attention of primary headteachers as they prepared the in service training programme for their teachers:

- Supporting KS3 learners to make progress in their RE skills.
- Assessment for learning in the Humanities
- Philosophy for Children (Level 1) – a two day course
- A cross curricular course: Humanities and Education for Sustainable Development and Global Citizenship
- Working in partnership with other organisations.

The following courses were submitted to the attention of secondary professional tutors and subject panels as they prepared the in service training programme for their teachers:

- How good are our practices? Aiming for Excellence
- Responding to pupils' additional educational needs
- Using ICT to improve subject skills and ICT skills
- Responding to controversial issues in the classroom
- Developing crosscurricular activities

2.8 Religious Education and DCELLS

DCELLS launched a pilot programme in 2009-10 in order to moderate KS3 teachers' assessments. Two secondary schools from Gwynedd and two secondary schools from Anglesey have been part of the pilot programme.

DCELLS is also developing guidelines to help teachers evaluate pupils' attainment. A group of Foundation Phase teachers are currently working together to identify good teaching and learning practices within the context of 'People, Questions and Beliefs'. Teachers from Gwynedd have contributed samples of their pupils' work to the attention of the subject officer.

2.9 SACRE's function

2.9.1 SACRE's function in relation to collective worship

Welsh Office Circular 10/94 notes that the LEA should work with SACRE to keep an eye on the daily collective worship provision, and should consider with it any steps which may be taken to improve such provision”.

The collective worship must be “of a broadly Christian character”. The “determination” procedure permits the suspension of these requirements in relation to some or all of the pupils in a school where they are deemed inappropriate.

A copy of the ‘Supplementary guidance for inspecting collective worship in non-denominational schools (ESTYN, June 2008) was distributed to the members.

2.9.2 Use of local religious leaders

In response to proposal made during the Summer 2010 meeting, a questionnaire was sent to every secondary school in Gwynedd in order to enquire about the use made of local religious leaders in the school. 10 out of 14 questionnaires were returned. The majority of schools noted that they:

- held special lessons;
- visited chapels and churches
- invited religious leaders
- invited representatives from a range of charities.

Christian youth workers organised activities in some areas.

2.9.3 Determinations

There was no request from any school for a determination in relation to collective worship
